

The red line depicts the current area in which local laws may be enforced. This map will remain in local law. With reference to Dogs only, an additional map will be inserted into our local law which encompasses our current map (red) and the extended area marked in blue.